Enforcing Fish Laws.

The department of fisheries and game, J. W. Titcomb, commissioner, reports the following cases in Orleans county during the month of May in connection with efforts to secure proper observance of the fish and game laws: Charles Hawkins, Derby, spearing, paid $10 and costs of $9.34; Henry Moulton, Newark for having lines hitched to poles and logs, paid $1 fine, $8.14 costs; Gus Moulton, Westmore, for having lines hitched to poles and logs, was fined $100 and costs $9.39, and put on probation; James Murphy, Westmore, for having lines hitched to poles and logs, $50 fine, and $8.44 costs and placed on probation; Frank Powers, Derby, spearing on the Clyde river, was fined $50 and costs and placed on probation; Antoine Buskey, Derby, catching bass out of season, paid a fine of $5 and costs of $8.44; W. R. Aldrich, Orleans, for running set lines, was fined $100 and costs of $11.36; Charles Jackson, Derby Line, for running set lines, was fined $100 and costs of $7.11. Both Aldrich and Jackson, who were together when apprehended by a warden, appealed from the decision of the court.

It is very evident that County Commissioner Stannard of Orleans intends to make the fish and game laws of some account as he is enthusiastically backed up by the state commissioner.

Glover Street Sidewalks.

To the Village Trustees: The people living on Glover street, south of the bridge, would respectfully call the attention of the city fathers to the condition of the sidewalk on said street. We have waited long and patiently for some repairs on these walks. Former trustees have promised but have not decently repaired them. The conditions are such that people living on this street can not tell whether a man is intoxicated or not, as a person has to dodge four different ways in going eight feet to avoid broken plank and to adapt himself to the unevenness of the walk. The last repairs made on this walk were with old planks that had been worn out on other walks but were considered good enough for Glover street. It has been the custom in the past for trustees to repair or make new walks wherever it would benefit their property. "Where are you going to commence?" This street has been used in the past by young people for their evening walks but the conditions are such that if not repaired soon, we feel that we shall soon lose our friends. The writer noticed several couples last Sunday evening, that had to hang on to avoid falling. "United we stand, divided we fall," was their motto. Now if you will kindly go over this walk, not with your automobiles but with your feet, and will say that we ask for a walk that is not needed we will rest contented for another ten years. We help pay for good walks in other parts of the village and all we have got for it is some of the old planks for repairs. If you don't see fit to build a new walk, will you please remove the thing that now is a nuisance?

Very truly,

C. E. Buswell.

County Christian Endeavor Union.

The 23d annual convention of the Orleans County Christian Endeavor union was held at East Craftsbury Thursday and Friday of last week, with the society of the United Presbyterian church. The convention opened at 11 o'clock Thursday forenoon with a good number present, considering the threatening condition of the weather. The report of the secretary showed that the union was in a flourishing condition, having gained 269 new members in the past year with general increased activity and good work in nearly every phase of endeavor. For general all around good work the Coventry society led and was awarded the banner for 1911, which read thus, "Banner society, Orleans County C. E. Union, 1911." The treasurer's report also showed the finances of the union in good shape.

A. J. Shurtle of Boston, a member of the United society, and Miss Bates of Bennington, state secretary, were present and lent great aid to worth and enthusiasm of the convention. Mr. Shurtle spoke on "Worldwide C. E. and the Headquarters Building" in the afternoon, and on "C. E. Fundamentals" in the evening, besides conducting a conference for the prayer meeting and lookout committees in the afternoon. He emphasized the need of the headquarters building and said he hoped the additional $50,000 needed for the building would be raised by the time of the great Atlantic City convention in July. About $150,000 has now been raised. Over $19 was pledged or given in cash at the convention. In his other remarks he emphasized the need of individual responsibility of Endeavorers. Miss Bates told something of the work in the state which is encouraging and conducted a conference on Junior work and its need.

Friday morning's session was taken up with an address by Rev. M. W. Hale of Coventry on "A New Grip on the Pledge," the transaction of business and the closing address by Rev. S. T. Achenbach of Greensboro, both of which were very helpful and inspiring.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Hunt of Westfield, L. A. Porter of Coventry and Mr. Findlay of East Craftsbury, reported the following officers, who were elected to serve the county union the coming year: President, Wallace H. Gilpin of Barton; vice president, Rev. M. W. Hale of Coventry; secretary and treasurer, Miss Seaver of Barton; junior superintendent, Miss Dwinell of Orleans.

East Craftsbury has a happy manner of entertaining and the fine hospitality of its people was repeatedly spoken of by all visitors and was also referred to by the resolution committee made up of Rev. Hale of Coventry, Barnard of Westfield and H. C. Newton of Brownington.

The first open air band concert took place Saturday evening. Let's wake up and cheer the boys. We appreciate their playing, but they don't know it. A little hand clapping will help.

"Aunt Dinah's Minstrels" will give an entertainment at the Heath schoolhouse Friday evening, June 16th. There will be a box supper after the entertainment. All are cordially invited.

Through the columns of the Monitor we wish to thank our friends and neighbors, who so kindly contributed toward buying us a horse. The sum we received was $50.25. May Heaven's richest blessings bless you all. Mrs. C. J. and M. E. Rollins.

Isabella L. Cameron, who graduated from Barton academy, Thursday evening, wore a pin at the graduating exercises, nearly three hundred years old. It was the stone of the engagement ring of the Countess of Kell, having been handed down from one generation to the other.

CARD—I want to thank all my kind friends and neighbors, also the Barton band, who so kindly helped me, through the long sickness and death of my husband, May God's richest blessings come to you in your time of need. Mrs. L. J. Freeman.

Mrs. Florence Pierce, Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Royston and Mrs. Barrows left today for Burlington to attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter, O. E. S., held here this week. F. W. Baldwin of this place, deputy grand patron, presides at the post-prandial exercises at the banquet held this evening.

W. A. Royston, who has been in charge of the A. Allyn Bishop studio here since Mr. Bishop bought it of the Walcott estate, has purchased the studio of Mr. Bishop and took possession June 1. Mr. Royston has had an experience of nearly two years in this studio and is possessed of natural talent along this line, and his success is assured.

The funeral of Miss Mollie Jones took place Sunday afternoon at the home of C. A. Nute. She died at the home of her parents Friday night. She was the sister of Mrs. Nute. Miss Jones has lived in Barton a part of last year with her sister and was only twenty-two years of age. Though she had been in failing health for the past three years, the end came very unexpectedly. A father and mother, four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn her loss.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford were in West Derby Tuesday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Loren Silver.

Mrs. John Shedd is at Walter Nye's in Barton, called there by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Hildreth.

Decoration day here passed off most pleasantly. The day was ideal, the exercises by the children were nicer than usual and the address of the day was considered the best heard for years. Rev. Wood is certainly a pleasing and instructive speaker. Rev. Hall of Island Pond was present and added a few words in which humor and pathos were blended in such a way as to make both the speaker and speech long remembered. Rev. Bancroft of this place also took part very acceptably. Sanderson's drum corps aided enjoyment to the day, and the large number attending all the exercises and entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion make it a day long to be remembered by all, especially by the G. A. R. whose ranks are fast growing thin and feeble. The singing, and especially that by the visitors from Derby, deserved much praise and the dinner was as bountiful and well served as usual.

COVENTRY.
